Defense Communication Agency
Operations Center
Washington, D.C. 20305
attn: Sgt Baker, DCAOC Code N303
- b. Description of Assistance: The Defense Communications Agency has requested that we provide them with a copy of our modification to the VM/SP Control Program that supports classification of printed output, as well as Batchmon, Tapemon, and the PROC system. We have already placed this software in the public domain. Since the interest in this software is somewhat limited, we have not refreshed the public domain copy every time a change was made. This software provides functions that are not available in software offered by a vendor. Also the "Classify" modification is required for compliance with DoD security regulations.
- c. Location of Assistance: NA.
- d. Component Involved: ODP/PSG/SPD/ISB.
- e. Basis for Activity: Public Law 89-306 encourages executive agencies to share and exchange information related to data processing technology. Assistance to the Defense Communications Agency is deemed to be in the government's interest. This direct release of software is a common extension to the public domain
